Have you ever said...

What should I expect?

... when I move from my home to Independent or Assisted Living.

What should I anticipate?

... when I am discharged from the hospital for a short term stay at rehab.

What can I do?

... my daughter just can't make it to my doctor appointments and I have a hard time understanding what my doctor says and what to do.

I really have no idea how to start?

... I need more help. My doctor said I need therapy because I have a hard time walking. I really don't know how to get therapy services started.

I wish my son could help me more.

... my son has a demanding job, a wife, and two children. There is just not enough time in his day to take me to my appointments, attend care conferences, manage my medications, let alone take care of my laundry.

Here is what a Columbine Care Manager can do...

Transitions

- Assessment for appropriate level of care
- Research and communicate with alternative facilities to determine appropriateness
- If acute situation, assist with communication of medications, diagnosis, advanced directives with hospital and/or rehab facility
- Coordination of documents, orders, and other necessary information needed by possible placement
- Assist with move-in, as needed

Advocacy

- Assessment to better understand client's functional, medical, psychological, and psychosocial needs
- Attendance at physician and specialist appointments
- Coordination of communication between physicians and specialists
- Reconcile medications to ensure safety and appropriateness

Coordination

- Assessment to better understand client's functional, medical, psychological, and psychosocial needs
- Research appropriate services with preferred providers for insurance
- Contact potential providers to provide referral information and initiate services
- Ensure communication between service provider, client, and family
