THE HISTORY OF THE WHITE HOUSE EASTER EGG ROLL

What could be simpler or more fun than a silly event featuring grown men in bunny suits? One of the most popular ways to celebrate Easter in the United States has always been hunting for Easter eggs, with the biggest event being the Easter egg roll at the White House. But this joyful event has a contentious past, all because of some Easter grinchers. The White House was finished in 1800, and the third president to live within its walls was James Madison, whose wife, Dolley Todd Madison, was famous for her ability to use social functions as a way to foster bipartisan cooperation. Prior to her exemplary hosting, the president would only meet with members of one party at a time, which resulted in distrust, scheming, and often actual physical violence. But with Dolley at the forefront of creating welcoming events where politicians could socialize amicably and outside of a high-pressure political meeting, progress was more easily made. One event that she started was the White House Egg Roll, inviting hundreds of children to bring their eggs and play games on the White House lawn in 1814. Egg rolls had been informally popular for many years, with stories of such parties happening under Abraham Lincoln's administration as well. As the years progressed, the event became more and more popular, with Washingtonians from all socioeconomic levels gathering for the fun event. By the 1870s, the Capitol Building and its expansive lawn was the most popular place to host the egg roll, although smaller events were held all over the city, including the White House lawn.

YOU KNOW WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT FOOLS FOR APRIL FOOL'S DAY

- It's better to keep your mouth shut and be thought a fool than to open it and leave no doubt. ~ Mark Twain
- However big the fool, there is always a bigger fool to admire him. ~ Nicolas Boileau-Despréaux (French poet and critic; 1636–1711)
- Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed. ~ Mark Twain
- Fool me once, shame on you; fool me twice, shame on me. ~ Chinese Proverb
- We're fools whether we dance or not, so we might as well dance. ~ Japanese Proverb
- You can fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time. ~ Abraham Lincoln
- The greatest lesson in life is to know that even fools are right sometimes ~ Sir Winston Churchill
- A fellow who is always declaring he's no fool, usually has his suspicions ~ Author Unknown
- A fool may be known by six things: anger without cause; speech without profit; change without progress; inquiry without object; putting trust in a stranger; and mistaking foes for friends. ~ Arabian Proverb
- Real friends are those who, when you feel you've made a fool of yourself, don't feel you've done a permanent job. ~ Author Unknown
- Our wisdom comes from our experience, and our experience comes from our foolishness. ~ Sacha Guilty (French actor; 1885–1957)
- It is human nature to think wisely and act foolishly. ~ Anatole France (French poet, journalist, and novelist; 1844–1924)
- You will do foolish things, but do them with enthusiasm. ~ New York World-Telegram and Sun, 1961
- Mix a little foolishness with your prudence: It's good to be silly at the right moment. ~ Horace (65 BC–8 BC)
- If every fool wore a crown, we should all be kings. ~ Welsh Proverb

- Here cometh April again, and as far as I can see the world hath more fools in it than ever. ~ Charles Lamb (English writer and essayist; 1775–1834)
- The trouble with practical jokes is that very often they get elected. ~ Will Rogers
- Lord, what fools these mortals be. ~ William Shakespeare
- Wise men talk because they have something to say; fools talk because they have to say something. ~ Plato

EARTH DAY ACTIVITIES

- Plant a tree or scatter native wildflower seeds to promote clean air and the survival of indigenous wildlife.
- Host a clothing swap or clothing repair party to encourage your friends (and yourself) to recycle old garments rather than buy new ones.
- Volunteer to pick up litter in a local park or run a recycling drive for glass and plastic containers.

ARBOR DAY FOREST FUNNIES
